Generalization is the ability of learning algorithm to make accurate predictions for the previously unseen data.

Overfit:

- The model might be too complex and fits too perfectly for the training data and makes wrong predictions for the new data.
- High variance
- Can be solved by using Regularization, or by deleting some unwanted features.

Underfit:

- The model is too simple and do well for training data.
- High bias